ARTephemeral
in school education

Implementation of ARTephemeral projects in Schools

After the Training Activity C2 in Maribor, Slovenia, in which all the teachers from different schools partners could learn about the use of ephemeral art as an innovative methodology, all the educational centres have developed a contest based on the ephemeral art with their students.

This contest is essential to demonstrate how relevant is the application of Ephemeral Art as a tool for the development of the 8 key competences for Lifelong Learning.

This project has to promote collaborative activities and work in multidisciplinary teams that will enforce the social and civic competences of the students.

This activity aims at the personal development of the students through critical thinking and the implementation of interpersonal skills. The students will also improve their communication skills both in their mother tongue and in foreign languages.

English is the communication language of this project and it will be used for the presentation and the realization of the video of the projects.

They will improve their mathematical competencies through calculations, measures in order to use volume as a tool for making artistic sculptures.

This activity aims at the personal development of the students through critical thinking and the implementation of interpersonal skills.

The realization of the project is related to creativity, innovation, and risk-taking, as well as the ability to plan and manage each phase to achieve their goal.

Through this activity, the students will implement their cultural awareness and expression skills, they will recognize and appreciate the importance of the creative expression of ideas, experiences, and emotions through ephemeral art.

During the school event activity in each country, all art projects created by the students will be shown through an exhibition, with the participation of their families, public authorities, teachers, etc. An expert committee will evaluate and judge the artworks and will choose the winning team, who will be offered a special award.

The winning group will have the opportunity to participate in the Student Exchange Mobility, which is the third activity proposed in the project.
